BrandTogether™

Custom Branding Process

A strong brand is your single greatest asset. It's more than a logo; it's the heart of your organization. It unites your people under a singular belief system. It clarifies your purpose, connects with your target audiences, and sets you apart from the competition. But to build a truly effective brand, you have to start from within.

That's the BrandTogether™ philosophy. Our highly collaborative and evidence-based custom branding process brings together deeply revealing insights from the people who know you best—your employees, your customers, and your partners—to help you build a brand that is authentic, meaningful, attention-getting, and wholly ownable in your industry.

One-Minute Brand Audit

Does your brand currently check all three boxes? If the answer is no, BrandTogether™ can help.

Emotionally Compelling

It connects with your audience on a deeper level, building loyalty and trust.

Clearly Defined

It differentiates you from your competition in a way that's easy to understand, articulate, and recognize, leaving no room for confusion.

Consistently Used

It is easily replicated across every communications touchpoint, the key to owning consumer mindshare.

How BrandTogether™ Works

Brand Intelligence

We start by conducting three levels of research to help you understand what your audiences and your organization needs now.

- 1 Internal Intelligence: Guided discovery session(s) with your internal stakeholders to get to the heart of what makes your organization special
- 2 Audience Intelligence: One-on-one interviews with your customers and partners to reveal why they choose your brand over all others
- 3 Competitive Intelligence: A deep dive into your competitors to dissect their brand strategies, identify patterns of sameness in the market, and spot clear opportunities for your brand to differentiate itself

Brand Strategy

Informed by our brand intelligence, we build a powerful, three-pillared brand strategy that you can go to market with immediately.

- 1 Business Descriptor: A clear and consistent definition of what your organization does
- 2 Key Differentiators: The 3-5 things that you do better or differently than anyone else, moving beyond clichés to articulate your true unique selling propositions
- 3 Tagline: Your organization's ultimate rallying cry, positioning statement, and brand promise

What's the Secret Ingredient? Emotion

Studies show 95% of purchasing decisions are driven by emotion. Across our BrandTogether™ process, we'll guide you through your audiences' emotional needs to build a brand that speaks to them at their core.
